

INTERESTING AND VALUABLE PAPER.

Writing The Echo under date April 6th, Mr. W. O. Hart, of New Orleans, says the paper which he read before the Spanish Trail Convention will be sent The Echo in a few days, after making a few minor clerical corrections, and our readers can anticipate reading it at an early date. The Echo will also print it in pamphlet form for distribution. Every school child will be given a copy.

SUBSCRIPTION $2 PER YEAR—ALWAYS IN ADVANCE.

APRIL PROCEEDINGS BOARD SUPERVISORS OF HANCOCK COUNTY

Board Petitioned For Road From Clermont Harbor to Lakeshore. Reports of Various Officers Received, and Ordered Filed.

SURPLUS BALANCES IN VARIOUS FUNDS TRANSFERRED.

Three Thousand Dollars Worth of Road Bonds Redeemed—Recapitulation of Treasurer's Report—Bills Ordered Paid.

State of Mississippi, County of Hancock.

Be it remembered that a regular meeting of the Board of Supervisors in and for said county and State was begun and helden in and for said county at the courthouse therefor, in the City of Bay St. Louis, on the first Monday of April, same being the 2nd of said month, and the time and place for the holding of said meeting; then were present to-wit:

H. S. Weston, President of said Board; Jos. L. Favre, Calvin Shaw, Jas. P. Moran, W. E. Thigpen, members; A. Kergosier, Clerk, and E. Van Whitfield, Sheriff of said County.

Ordered by the Board that the following amounts be allowed and paid out of the Road and Bridge Fund, as per bills on file, examined and approved, to-wit:

W. G. Thigpen, 1-12 contract, $366.66

JAMES D. Lee, 1-12 contract, 406.25

Thigpen & Pearson, 1-12 contract, 416.66

Lee & Jones, 1-12 contract, 408.33

Mrs. Rutherford, salary, 36.00

A. J. McLeod, salary, 35.00

Sylvest Favre, making sign

post, Beat No. 1, 50.00

C. I. Joyner, lumber, 70.56

C. I. Joyner, lumber, 33.92

W. L. Bourgeois, oil, Bayou LaCroix, 85

Ordered by the Board that the following amounts be allowed and paid out of the General County Fund, as per bills on file, examined and approved, to-wit:

Sam C. Ladner, salary, $ 25.00

Cumberland T. & T. Co., rentals and tolls, 22.30

Sam B. Bond, salary, 50.00

F. C. Bordage, Sr., salary, 180.00

S. W. O'Neal, salary, 200.00

E. J. Geay, salary, 75.00

Sea Coast Echo, poll and regis-stration books, 161.50

Sea Coast Echo, printing and publishing notices, 129.81

Beach Drug Store, mdse., 7.80

W. L. Bourgeois, mdse., 2.29

Remington Typewriter Co., supplies, 7.08

Bureau Child Welfare, appropriation health nurse, 108.33

Gulf Coast Progress, notice, 2.83

New Orleans Tent and Awning Co., shades, 300.00

W. A. McDonald, excess Jos. Carriga land, 42.96

Dr. H. Fredericksen, salary and expenses, 223.08

J. E. Harris, legal services, 100.00

Petition of J. B. V. Ladner et al.

for road from Clermont Harbor to Lakeshore, on north side of railroad, was received and ordered filed.

E. S. Drake was employed as civil engineer, at a salary of $15.00 a day to cover automobile and expenses and to be employed part time. Board sends him out on design work.

It appearing that bids had been asked for the driving of an artesian well at Bayou LaCroix Bridge, as per plans and specifications, and said bids have been advertised for three consecutive weeks in The Sea Coast Echo, a newspaper published in Hancock county and with a general circulation therein, and John A. Sutter having bid the sum of $1.60 per foot, and his bid being the best and lowest bid, the said bid is accepted and a bond of $400.00 shall be furnished by the successful bidder.

Thigpen & Pearson having filed their bond for contract of roads, bridges and culverts in Beat No. 4, and having requested the Board to approve same, it is therefore ordered that said bond be and is hereby accepted.

Report of the County Health officer was received, read and ordered filed.

Report of Dr. U. Fredrickson, Director of Child Welfare Work, was received, read and ordered filed.

Report of the County Agent was received, read and ordered filed.

Ordered by the Board that the Board adjourn until Tuesday morning, April 3rd, 1923, at 9 o'clock.

H. S. WESTON, President.

Tuesday morning, April 3rd, 1923, 9 o'clock. Board met pursuant to adjournment. Present as on yesterday.

It appearing that there is now a General County Special Fund, with $546.71 in said fund, and there being no further use for said fund, it is ordered that warrant for said amount issue for $546.71 out of said General County Special Fund, payable to the General County Fund.

It appearing that there is now a Loan Warrant Fund, with $3,846.64 in said fund, and there being no further use for said fund, it is therefore ordered that warrant for said amount issue for $3,846.64 out of the Loan Warrant Fund, payable to the General County Fund.

It appearing that there is now a Road Fund with $91.50 in said fund.

(Continued on Page Three.)

The Spanish Trail
The County Paper.

BAY ST. LOUIS, MISSISSIPPI, SATURDAY, APRIL 7, 1923.

CENTRAL SCHOOL.

From all appearances spring is here to stay, as the pupils of the intermediate classes observed Wednesday as clean-up day and improved the looks of the grounds greatly.

Tuesday afternoon the school was visited by Miss Houston, of the State Board of Health, from Jackson, who made a very interesting talk on "The Hygiene of the Mouth," and proved that the loss of a tooth is more of a tragedy than the pain of having it extracted. She also told the pupils how to care for and protect the teeth, and the importance of having the dentist to examine them.

A number of the parents were present and we are glad to see that they are interested in the welfare of the pupils of the High School.

* * *

MY COUNTRY HOME.

By Louis Robert.
I love to wander, I love to roam;
But the sweetest place of my life is my home!
I've had enough of gay times and city fare,
My greatest gift is a mother's care.
I've had enough of city life;
Now I'm going back to my country life.

I name it a great surprise,
They'll all sit up and turn out to see;
I will be the happiest hour that I lay my mother, and hug my dad;
My girl has ever had!

I eat light bread, steaming hot;
I sleep in a simple bed, with a pot to the pot;
I help my mother the better to feed her;
I kiss my mother, and hug my dad;
I eat wood for the bin to fill;

I hoe potatoes and eat the hay;
I bat my twill be; I'll bleed the day;

want to hear sweet warbling of birds in
my old clothes, with time to sit;
If I feed the chickens and the swine,
I'll take the bowing of the kine.

want to go fishing on our old wharf,
And I want to hear the friendly sound of
Birds' singing.

When I go home, home is pleasant,
I'll visit the old schoolhouse on the hill,
I'll drive Old Dublin to country mill.

Want to hear the friendly hummin'
of my honey bees;

If I feed the chickens and the swine,
I'll take the bowing of the kine.

want to go fishing on our old wharf,
And I want to hear the friendly sound of
Birds' singing.

When I go home, home is pleasant,

Want to hear the friendly hummin'

of my honey bees;

If I feed the chickens and the swine,
I'll take the bowing of the kine.

want to go fishing on our old wharf,
And I want to hear the friendly sound of
Birds' singing.

When I go home, home is pleasant,
I'll visit the old schoolhouse on the hill,
I'll drive Old Dublin to country mill.

want to hear sweet warbling of birds in
my old clothes, with time to sit;

If I feed the chickens and the swine,
I'll take the bowing of the kine.

want to go fishing on our old wharf,
And I want to hear the friendly sound of
Birds' singing.

When I go home, home is pleasant,

want to hear sweet warbling of birds in
my old clothes, with time to sit;

If I feed the chickens and the swine,
I'll take the bowing of the kine.

want to go fishing on our old wharf,
And I want to hear the friendly sound of
Birds' singing.

When I go home, home is pleasant,

want to hear sweet warbling of birds in
my old clothes, with time to sit;

If I feed the chickens and the swine,
I'll take the bowing of the kine.

want to go fishing on our old wharf,
And I want to hear the friendly sound of
Birds' singing.

When I go home, home is pleasant,

want to hear sweet warbling of birds in
my old clothes, with time to sit;

If I feed the chickens and the swine,
I'll take the bowing of the kine.

want to go fishing on our old wharf,
And I want to hear the friendly sound of
Birds' singing.

When I go home, home is pleasant,

want to hear sweet warbling of birds in
my old clothes, with time to sit;

If I feed the chickens and the swine,
I'll take the bowing of the kine.

want to go fishing on our old wharf,
And I want to hear the friendly sound of
Birds' singing.

When I go home, home is pleasant,

want to hear sweet warbling of birds in
my old clothes, with time to sit;

If I feed the chickens and the swine,
I'll take the bowing of the kine.

want to go fishing on our old wharf,
And I want to hear the friendly sound of
Birds' singing.

When I go home, home is pleasant,

want to hear sweet warbling of birds in
my old clothes, with time to sit;

If I feed the chickens and the swine,
I'll take the bowing of the kine.

want to go fishing on our old wharf,
And I want to hear the friendly sound of
Birds' singing.

When I go home, home is pleasant,

want to hear sweet warbling of birds in
my old clothes, with time to sit;

If I feed the chickens and the swine,
I'll take the bowing of the kine.

want to go fishing on our old wharf,
And I want to hear the friendly sound of
Birds' singing.

When I go home, home is pleasant,

want to hear sweet warbling of birds in
my old clothes, with time to sit;

If I feed the chickens and the swine,
I'll take the bowing of the kine.

want to go fishing on our old wharf,
And I want to hear the friendly sound of
Birds' singing.

When I go home, home is pleasant,

want to hear sweet warbling of birds in
my old clothes, with time to sit;

If I feed the chickens and the swine,
I'll take the bowing of the kine.

want to go fishing on our old wharf,
And I want to hear the friendly sound of
Birds' singing.

When I go home, home is pleasant,

want to hear sweet warbling of birds in
my old clothes, with time to sit;

If I feed the chickens and the swine,
I'll take the bowing of the kine.

want to go fishing on our old wharf,
And I want to hear the friendly sound of
Birds' singing.

When I go home, home is pleasant,

want to hear sweet warbling of birds in
my old clothes, with time to sit;

If I feed the chickens and the swine,
I'll take the bowing of the kine.

want to go fishing on our old wharf,
And I want to hear the friendly sound of
Birds' singing.

When I go home, home is pleasant,

want to hear sweet warbling of birds in
my old clothes, with time to sit;

If I feed the chickens and the swine,
I'll take the bowing of the kine.

want to go fishing on our old wharf,
And I want to hear the friendly sound of
Birds' singing.

When I go home, home is pleasant,

want to hear sweet warbling of birds in
my old clothes, with time to sit;

If I feed the chickens and the swine,
I'll take the bowing of the kine.

want to go fishing on our old wharf,
And I want to hear the friendly sound of
Birds' singing.

When I go home, home is pleasant,

want to hear sweet warbling of birds in
my old clothes, with time to sit;

THE SEA COAST ECHO.

C. G. Moreau, Editor and Publisher.

Official Journal of The Board of Supervisors, Hancock County, Miss.

Official Journal of Board of Mayor and Aldermen City of Bay St. Louis.

FOR FIRE CALL
TELEPHONE NO. 156.

COMMUNITIES OUGHT TO VISIT.

We see relatives and friends coming and going on visits, and even neighbors running in and out of each other's homes, all cementing closer the bonds of love and friendship and we wonder why towns don't do a little more of the same thing.

The only reason the California paper has not seen these possibilities before is the fact that it had made no investigation. It's the same way with others.

It hadn't thought too much of Mississippi before, but it is now beginning to see the possibilities here.

Well, we should say!

The only reason the California paper has not seen these possibilities before is the fact that it had made no investigation. It's the same way with others.

Mississippi has had entirely too much politics, and at the expense of all other things best considered for the State. Factional strife has torn the State wide open; factions arraigned against one another and any issue has been raised in order to ride into office. The mere mention of Mississippi over the country has conjured up thoughts associated with public scandal, charges and counter-charges of ill name and repute. It has been demoralizing, to say the least.

But politics have been relegated to the junk pile, and the people are turning their time and attention to the development of the State. Last week the Echo carried a remarkable story of development and progress noted by Richard Spillane, feature writer for a Philadelphia paper. And minds of all the remarkable developments told the Gulf Coast section was omitted! The Land of Wonderment and Enchantment!

In this section there isn't any cause for community jealousy. The Gulf Coast and South Mississippi, collectively, is the Garden Spot of the South. The success of one town along the coast means a contribution to the success of the entire sea strand. Of course, each one is trying to make his town better. That is community spirit. If this were lacking as a whole, the section would be a failure. But let me tell you, at the expense of an effort. So why can't we be a little more neighborly and a little more helpful? Why can't we agree upon some afternoon, now that spring is here, when we can possibly close shop for the afternoon and let some one in charge, and run out along the coast in one big, merry family party and call on our neighbors? Think it over, talk it over. In the meantime let it seep. Possibly some organized body or business interest in Bay St. Louis might put it over. If not this time, possibly at another time.

Did you ever stop to think how little you know of people, of business, of things, in general at Pass Christian, Gulfport, Biloxi, Ocean Springs and intermediate points? Wouldn't it prove interesting and profitable to meet the people of other towns personally, to be introduced, taken around and shown things?

PLenty OF ROOM FOR THE RIGHT KIND.

A cancer is anything that corrodes, corrupts or destroys. The human cancer of the worst type is the person who, although he was born in America, despises his government for this or that, makes slurring remarks about her institutions, and in a roundabout way seeks to destroy or undermine them. He or she is even worse than the other human cancer who, born on a foreign soil, comes to this country and preaches the doctrine of hate and bloodshed and carries out his or her distorted beliefs in acts of violence. We have room for the foreign-born man or woman who wants to live honestly and happily and help build up the community. We have room for the American who takes pride in his country, and its schools and churches and other institutions. But there isn't room here, and we hope before heaven there never will be, for the human cancer who seeks to hold back, distort or destroy any good institution or any good movement sheltered under the American flag.

WHEN SATAN DRIVES AUTOMOBILES.

In spite of all the courts are doing in many cities and towns to stop speeding by imposing heavy fines and sentences, the speed maniac is still at large, and spring weather seems to bring them out in larger numbers than ever before. He abounds in every community, and we must admit that this and surrounding territory boasts its share. A short time ago in an Eastern city at a street car was unloading its passengers a madman of the speed type tore through the crowd in a high-powered auto at a rate of 60 miles an hour. Three people were instantly killed. And the motorist, when apprehended, was under the influence of liquor. But not all-speed maniacs are drinkers. Most of them simply have a mania for fast driving; they lose all sight of the value of human life; they think it "smart" to step on the gas, and they care little for consequences. Spring is here, the speeders are becoming more numerous, so it would seem a pretty good time to start war on them and show no mercy when one of them is brought to justice.

CASE RECORDED ON 8500 PAGES.

Jackson, Miss., March 28.—Supreme Court Clerk W. J. Buck has completed the records in the fire insurance cases on appeal to the Supreme Court of the United States. An addition of 500 pages was sent to his office. When ready for submission the case will contain 8,600 typed written pages.

MISSISSIPPI VERSUS CALIFORNIA.

A Los Angeles, California, newspaper, says the Hattiesburg Daily American, has just awakened to the fact that the good old State of Mississippi is making some progress.

It hadn't thought too much of Mississippi before, but it is now beginning to see the possibilities here.

Well, we should say!

The only reason the California paper has not seen these possibilities before is the fact that it had made no investigation. It's the same way with others.

Mississippi has had entirely too much politics, and at the expense of all other things best considered for the State. Factional strife has torn the State wide open; factions arraigned against one another and any issue has been raised in order to ride into office. The mere mention of Mississippi over the country has conjured up thoughts associated with public scandal, charges and counter-charges of ill name and repute. It has been demoralizing, to say the least.

But politics have been relegated to the junk pile, and the people are turning their time and attention to the development of the State. Last week the Echo carried a remarkable story of development and progress noted by Richard Spillane, feature writer for a Philadelphia paper. And minds of all the remarkable developments told the Gulf Coast section was omitted! The Land of Wonderment and Enchantment!

Government men, in different lines of work, do not hesitate to declare that the possibilities of the Atlantic Gulf Coast States are greater than those of California. These facts, officially stated, cannot be contradicted. But we do not, neither is it the purpose here, to boost the Mississippi Gulf Coast at the expense of another section of the country. The Gulf Coast speaks for itself, or rather, it will in time speak for itself. The trouble has been and still is that it has no one to do its speaking. This section is not advertised; there is no exploitation; no organized system of advertising.

The Hattiesburg American calls attention to the fact that any fruit that can be grown on the Mississippi Gulf Coast is 100 per cent better than that grown in California. The peach is an example of this. The flavor of Mississippi peaches is much more delightful than that of the pretty peaches shipped here from California, which have an insipid kind of taste, even when just taken from the trees at home.

But California grows more fruit—more peaches. Sure! That's a large part of California's business, just as growing cotton is a large part of Mississippi's business.

It is said by many people who have resided in each of the States that the only trouble is that Mississippi does not try to protect her orchards from cold and freezes, as does California, with smudge pots and other protective measures.

Some day California may realize that she has some strong competition in the Mississippi Coast territory, and will then have a better opinion of us, especially as Mississippi is now ranking higher than California in educational progress.

The possibilities of Mississippi-South Mississippi especially—are great, and are sure to be recognized—and it won't be long!

Louisiana LOSES CHANCE TO UPBUILD ITS DAIRYING.

The dairy industry of southeastern Louisiana recently lost an excellent opportunity to improve the quality of the cattle kept in that section when the "Purified Sire Special" of the development department of the Illinois Central Railroad visited Baton Rouge and several other points in the State, and passed on without leaving any purebred dairy bulls in Louisiana.

This special toured Mississippi and Louisiana over the Illinois Central lines, demonstrating the possibilities for building up the dairy industry by the use of purebred sires. The railroad company had planned to leave a number of the bulls in the two States, lending them to communities for the improvement of their dairy cattle.

The special aroused much interest at several points in Louisiana where it stopped, and Louisianians were keenly disappointed when they learned that the officials in charge of the exhibit had decided, after looking over the territory, that the country was too generally infested with cattle fever ticks to warrant the risk of leaving any of the purebred sires in the State. The best development of dairying in that region thus depends on the eradication of ticks.

An announcement comes from Mobile of the election of Mort L. Bixler as secretary of the Mobile Fair, a position which he has held three times previously. Mr. Bixler says that his policy is to make the Mobile Fair an effective force in the development of the country around Mobile for a distance of 100 miles. To this end the premium money on agriculture and livestock has been increased and much effort will be spent on community fairs in the surrounding counties.

Plant something now and save the best of all you raise, is the message Mr. Bixler sends and he welcomes requests to come to any of the counties to help organize county and community fairs.

When we see a woman smile and know at the same time that her tight shoes are killing her, we understand how they can endure more pain than a man.

The reason a man hates to see his wife cry is because he knows it's going to cost him something to get her to stop.

A CASE OF PLAIN BUNK.

We're getting tired of finding in almost every paper that comes to The Echo office a lot of stuff about the whole country being prosperous only as long as we can keep the farmer prosperous, and letters from readers suggesting this or that law to bring about better times in our rural sections. Most of this is inspired by the politicians of this country, office-seekers whose aim is not so much to do something for the farmer as to make him think that something is being done for him. These politicians often mistake the clamor of a small group with an axe of its own to grind about better times in our rural sections. Most of this is inspired by the politicians of this country, office-seekers whose aim is not so much to do something for the farmer as to make him think that something is being done for him. These politicians often mistake the clamor of a small group with an axe of its own to grind about better times in our rural sections. Most of this is inspired by the politicians of this country, office-seekers whose aim is not so much to do something for the farmer as to make him think that something is being done for him. These politicians often mistake the clamor of a small group with an axe of its own to grind about better times in our rural sections. Most of this is inspired by the politicians of this country, office-seekers whose aim is not so much to do something for the farmer as to make him think that something is being done for him. These politicians often mistake the clamor of a small group with an axe of its own to grind about better times in our rural sections. Most of this is inspired by the politicians of this country, office-seekers whose aim is not so much to do something for the farmer as to make him think that something is being done for him. These politicians often mistake the clamor of a small group with an axe of its own to grind about better times in our rural sections. Most of this is inspired by the politicians of this country, office-seekers whose aim is not so much to do something for the farmer as to make him think that something is being done for him. These politicians often mistake the clamor of a small group with an axe of its own to grind about better times in our rural sections. Most of this is inspired by the politicians of this country, office-seekers whose aim is not so much to do something for the farmer as to make him think that something is being done for him. These politicians often mistake the clamor of a small group with an axe of its own to grind about better times in our rural sections. Most of this is inspired by the politicians of this country, office-seekers whose aim is not so much to do something for the farmer as to make him think that something is being done for him. These politicians often mistake the clamor of a small group with an axe of its own to grind about better times in our rural sections. Most of this is inspired by the politicians of this country, office-seekers whose aim is not so much to do something for the farmer as to make him think that something is being done for him. These politicians often mistake the clamor of a small group with an axe of its own to grind about better times in our rural sections. Most of this is inspired by the politicians of this country, office-seekers whose aim is not so much to do something for the farmer as to make him think that something is being done for him. These politicians often mistake the clamor of a small group with an axe of its own to grind about better times in our rural sections. Most of this is inspired by the politicians of this country, office-seekers whose aim is not so much to do something for the farmer as to make him think that something is being done for him. These politicians often mistake the clamor of a small group with an axe of its own to grind about better times in our rural sections. Most of this is inspired by the politicians of this country, office-seekers whose aim is not so much to do something for the farmer as to make him think that something is being done for him. These politicians often mistake the clamor of a small group with an axe of its own to grind about better times in our rural sections. Most of this is inspired by the politicians of this country, office-seekers whose aim is not so much to do something for the farmer as to make him think that something is being done for him. These politicians often mistake the clamor of a small group with an axe of its own to grind about better times in our rural sections. Most of this is inspired by the politicians of this country, office-seekers whose aim is not so much to do something for the farmer as to make him think that something is being done for him. These politicians often mistake the clamor of a small group with an axe of its own to grind about better times in our rural sections. Most of this is inspired by the politicians of this country, office-seekers whose aim is not so much to do something for the farmer as to make him think that something is being done for him. These politicians often mistake the clamor of a small group with an axe of its own to grind about better times in our rural sections. Most of this is inspired by the politicians of this country, office-seekers whose aim is not so much to do something for the farmer as to make him think that something is being done for him. These politicians often mistake the clamor of a small group with an axe of its own to grind about better times in our rural sections. Most of this is inspired by the politicians of this country, office-seekers whose aim is not so much to do something for the farmer as to make him think that something is being done for him. These politicians often mistake the clamor of a small group with an axe of its own to grind about better times in our rural sections. Most of this is inspired by the politicians of this country, office-seekers whose aim is not so much to do something for the farmer as to make him think that something is being done for him. These politicians often mistake the clamor of a small group with an axe of its own to grind about better times in our rural sections. Most of this is inspired by the politicians of this country, office-seekers whose aim is not so much to do something for the farmer as to make him think that something is being done for him. These politicians often mistake the clamor of a small group with an axe of its own to grind about better times in our rural sections. Most of this is inspired by the politicians of this country, office-seekers whose aim is not so much to do something for the farmer as to make him think that something is being done for him. These politicians often mistake the clamor of a small group with an axe of its own to grind about better times in our rural sections. Most of this is inspired by the politicians of this country, office-seekers whose aim is not so much to do something for the farmer as to make him think that something is being done for him. These politicians often mistake the clamor of a small group with an axe of its own to grind about better times in our rural sections. Most of this is inspired by the politicians of this country, office-seekers whose aim is not so much to do something for the farmer as to make him think that something is being done for him. These politicians often mistake the clamor of a small group with an axe of its own to grind about better times in our rural sections. Most of this is inspired by the politicians of this country, office-seekers whose aim is not so much to do something for the farmer as to make him think that something is being done for him. These politicians often mistake the clamor of a small group with an axe of its own to grind about better times in our rural sections. Most of this is inspired by the politicians of this country, office-seekers whose aim is not so much to do something for the farmer as to make him think that something is being done for him. These politicians often mistake the clamor of a small group with an axe of its own to grind about better times in our rural sections. Most of this is inspired by the politicians of this country, office-seekers whose aim is not so much to do something for the farmer as to make him think that something is being done for him. These politicians often mistake the clamor of a small group with an axe of its own to grind about better times in our rural sections. Most of this is inspired by the politicians of this country, office-seekers whose aim is not so much to do something for the farmer as to make him think that something is being done for him. These politicians often mistake the clamor of a small group with an axe of its own to grind about better times in our rural sections. Most of this is inspired by the politicians of this country, office-seekers whose aim is not so much to do something for the farmer as to make him think that something is being done for him. These politicians often mistake the clamor of a small group with an axe of its own to grind about better times in our rural sections. Most of this is inspired by the politicians of this country, office-seekers whose aim is not so much to do something for the farmer as to make him think that something is being done for him. These politicians often mistake the clamor of a small group with an axe of its own to grind about better times in our rural sections. Most of this is inspired by the politicians of this country, office-seekers whose aim is not so much to do something for the farmer as to make him think that something is being done for him. These politicians often mistake the clamor of a small group with an axe of its own to grind about better times in our rural sections. Most of this is inspired by the politicians of this country, office-seekers whose aim is not so much to do something for the farmer as to make him think that something is being done for him. These politicians often mistake the clamor of a small group with an axe of its own to grind about better times in our rural sections. Most of this is inspired by the politicians of this country, office-seekers whose aim is not so much to do something for the farmer as to make him think that something is being done for him. These politicians often mistake the clamor of a small group with an axe of its own to grind about better times in our rural sections. Most of this is inspired by the politicians of this country, office-seekers whose aim is not so much to do something for the farmer as to make him think that something is being done for him. These politicians often mistake the clamor of a small group with an axe of its own to grind about better times in our rural sections. Most of this is inspired by the politicians of this country, office-seekers whose aim is not so much to do something for the farmer as to make him think that something is being done for him. These politicians often mistake the clamor of a small group with an axe of its own to grind about better times in our rural sections. Most of this is inspired by the politicians of this country, office-seekers whose aim is not so much to do something for the farmer as to make him think that something is being done for him. These politicians often mistake the clamor of a small group with an axe of its own to grind about better times in our rural sections. Most of this is inspired by the politicians of this country, office-seekers whose aim is not so much to do something for the farmer as to make him think that something is being done for him. These politicians often mistake the clamor of a small group with an axe of its own to grind about better times in our rural sections. Most of this is inspired by the politicians of this country, office-seekers whose aim is not so much to do something for the farmer as to make him think that something is being done for him. These politicians often mistake the clamor of a small group with an axe of its own to grind about better times in our rural sections. Most of this is inspired by the politicians of this country, office-seekers whose aim is not so much to do something for the farmer as to make him think that something is being done for him. These politicians often mistake the clamor of a small group with an axe of its own to grind about better times in our rural sections. Most of this is inspired by the politicians of this country, office-seekers whose aim is not so much to do something for the farmer as to make him think that something is being done for him. These politicians often mistake the clamor of a small group with an axe of its own to grind about better times in our rural sections. Most of this is inspired by the politicians of this country, office-seekers whose aim is not so much to do something for the farmer as to make him think that something is being done for him. These politicians often mistake the clamor of a small group with an axe of its own to grind about better times in our rural sections. Most of this is inspired by the politicians of this country, office-seekers whose aim is not so much to do something for the farmer as to make him think that something is being done for him. These politicians often mistake the clamor of a small group with an axe of its own to grind about better times in our rural sections. Most of this is inspired by the politicians of this country, office-seekers whose aim is not so much to do something for the farmer as to make him think that something is being done for him. These politicians often mistake the clamor of a small group with an axe of its own to grind about better times in our rural sections. Most of this is inspired by the politicians of this country, office-seekers whose aim is not so much to do something for the farmer as to make him think that something is being done for him. These politicians often mistake the clamor of a small group with an axe of its own to grind about better times in our rural sections. Most of this is inspired by the politicians of this country, office-seekers whose aim is not so much to do something for the farmer as to make him think that something is being done for him. These politicians often mistake the clamor of a small group with an axe of its own to grind about better times in our rural sections. Most of this is inspired by the politicians of this country, office-seekers whose aim is not so much to do something for the farmer as to make him think that something is being done for him. These politicians often mistake the clamor of a small group with an axe of its own to grind about better times in our rural sections. Most of this is inspired by the politicians of this country, office-seekers whose aim is not so much to do something for the farmer as to make him think that something is being done for him. These politicians often mistake the clamor of a small group with an axe of its own to grind about better times in our rural sections. Most of this is inspired by the politicians of this country, office-seekers whose aim is not so much to do something for the farmer as to make him think that something is being done for him. These politicians often mistake the clamor of a small group with an axe of its own to grind about better times in our rural sections. Most of this is inspired by the politicians of this country, office-seekers whose aim is not so much to do something for the farmer as to make him think that something is being done for him. These politicians often mistake the clamor of a small group with an axe of its own to grind about better times in our rural sections. Most of this is inspired by the politicians of this country, office-seekers whose aim is not so much to do something for the farmer as to make him think that something is being done for him. These politicians often mistake the clamor of a small group with an axe of its own to grind about better times in our rural sections. Most of this is inspired by the politicians of this country, office-seekers whose aim is not so much to do something for the farmer as to make him think that something is being done for him. These politicians often mistake the clamor of a small group with an axe of its own to grind about better times in our rural sections. Most of this is inspired by the politicians of this country, office-seekers whose aim is not so much to do something for the farmer as to make him think that something is being done for him. These politicians often mistake the clamor of a small group with an axe of its own to grind about better times in our rural sections. Most of this is inspired by the politicians of this country, office-seekers whose aim is not so much to do something for the farmer as to make him think that something is being done for him. These politicians often mistake the clamor of a small group with an axe of its own to grind about better times in our rural sections. Most of this is inspired by the politicians of this country, office-seekers whose aim is not so much to do something for the farmer as to make him think that something is being done for him. These politicians often mistake the clamor of a small group with an axe of its own to grind about better times in our rural sections. Most of this is inspired by the politicians of this country, office-seekers whose aim is not so much to do something for the farmer as to make him think that something is being done for him. These politicians often mistake the clamor of a small group with an axe of its own to grind about better times in our rural sections. Most of this is inspired by the politicians of this country, office-seekers whose aim is not so much to do something for the farmer as to make him think that something is being done for him. These politicians often mistake the clamor of a small group with an axe of its own to grind about better times in our rural sections. Most of this is inspired by the politicians of this country, office-seekers whose aim is not so much to do something for the farmer as to make him think that something is being done for him. These politicians often mistake the clamor of a small group with an axe of its own to grind about better times in our rural sections. Most of this is inspired by the politicians of this country, office-seekers whose aim is not so much to do something for the farmer as to make him think that something is being done for him. These politicians often mistake the clamor of a small group with an axe of its own to grind about better times in our rural sections. Most of this is inspired by the politicians of this country, office-seekers whose aim is not so much to do something for the farmer as to make him think that something is being done for him. These politicians often mistake the clamor of a small group with an axe of its own to grind about better times in our rural sections. Most of this is inspired by the politicians of this country, office-seekers whose aim is not so much to do something for the farmer as to make him think that something is being done for him. These politicians often mistake the clamor of a small group with an axe of its own to grind about better times in our rural sections. Most of this is inspired by the politicians of this country, office-seekers whose aim is not so much to do something for the farmer as to make him think that something is being done for him. These politicians often mistake the clamor of a small group with an axe of its own to grind about better times in our rural sections. Most of this is inspired by the politicians of this country, office-seekers whose aim is not so much to do something for the farmer as to make him think that something is being done for him. These politicians often mistake the clamor of a small group with an axe of its own to grind about better times and there being no further use for said fund, it is therefore ordered that warrant for said amount issue for $91.50 out of the Road Fund, payable to the Road and Bridge Fund.

APRIL PROCEEDINGS BOARD SUPERVISORS OF HANCOCK COUNTY

(Continued from Page One.)

It appearing that there is now a Kilm Consolidated School Special Fund, with $266.36 in said fund, and there being no further use for said fund, it is therefore ordered that warrant for said amount issue for $266.36 out of the Kilm Consolidated School Special Fund, payable to the Kilm Consolidated School Fund.

Ordered by the Board that the following amounts be allowed and paid out of the School Fund, as per bills on file, examined and approved, to-wit:

Chas. W. Kellar, refund poll tax $2.00

Sylvanie Nicase, refund poll tax $2.00

Forrest Garriga having reported to the Board that he had completed his contract for building bridges on Fenton Cemetery Road, and the Board appointed a committee composed of Calvin Shaw and W. E. Thigpen to inspect said bridge, and said committee having reported favorably and having recommended payment of contract price, it is said to Forrest Garriga. It is therefore ordered that warrant issue of the Road and Bridge Fund, payable to Forrest Garriga for the sum of $220.00.

It appearing to the Board of Supervisors that there is enough money in the County Depository for account of the Hancock County Road and Bridge Bonds to retire: $3,000.00 worth of Road Bonds, to-wit: Nos. 195, 196, 197, 198, 199, 200, inclusive of Hancock County Road and Bridge Bonds, and interest be and the same is hereby directed to be paid on presentation of said bonds to Hancock County Treasurer or Hancock County Bank by the holder thereof on the said 1st day of May, 1923; as interest will cease after said date.

It is further ordered that notice be given by publishing said order in The Sea Coast Echo, weekly newspaper published in Hancock County, for three consecutive weeks prior to said 1st day of May, 1923, in manner prescribed by law.

The report of the County Treasurer was received, read and ordered filed, and the recapitulation of said report is in the words and figures the following, to-wit:

RECAPITULATION.

General County Fund.....$47,159.70
General County Fund, Special.....546.71

Bond Fund.....8,554.26
Bond Fund, Special.....6,238.98

Loan Warrant Fund.....3,846.64

Forestry and Game Protection Fund.....810.74

Sea Wall Fund.....29.52

Road and Bridge Fund.....29,669.72

Road and Bridge Fund, Loan Warrant Fund.....19,156.49

Pension Fund.....94.50

School Fund.....77.04

School Loan Warrant Fund.....21,460.42

Institute Fund.....10,735.80

Sellers Consolidated School Fund.....15.36

Sellers Consolidated School Fund, Special.....5,731.72

Kilm Consolidated School Fund, Special.....806.06

Kilm Consolidated School Fund.....6,497.78

Kilm Consolidated School Fund, Special.....266.36

Dedeaux Consolidated School Fund.....614.62

Gulf View Consolidated School Fund.....3,403.99

Aaron Academy School Fund.....50.51

Lee Town School Fund.....198.41

Sixteenth Section School Funds: T. S. R. 14. W.—

Principal Fund $14,971.64
Interest Fund.....54.48

5. 15 Principal Fund 4,903.35
Interest Fund.....608.12

5. 16 Principal Fund0.01

6. 14 Principal Fund 7,939.76
Interest Fund.....29.26

6. 15 Principal Fund 1,023.64
Interest Fund.....393.83

7. 14 Principal Fund 415.75
Interest Fund.....24.89

7. 15 Principal Fund 195.32
Interest Fund.....226.95

7. 16 Principal Fund 70.86
Interest Fund.....7.33

7. 17 Principal Fund 1,851.80
Interest Fund.....511.28

8. 14 Principal Fund 608.45
Interest Fund.....116.21

8. 15 Principal Fund 204.00
Interest Fund.....24.18

8. 16 Principal Fund 1,235.57
Interest Fund.....9.40

8. 17 Principal Fund 325.55
Interest Fund.....701.98

9. 14 Principal Fund 68.32
Interest Fund.....180.41

9. 15 Principal Fund 85
Interest Fund.....418.63

9. 16 Principal Fund 326.74
Interest Fund.....1,056.83

Ordered by the Board that the following amounts be allowed and paid out of the Road and Bridge Fund, as per bills on file, examined and approved, to-wit:

Wm. Bourgeois, labor.....15.00

August Tacon, labor.....78.00

Aila Lafontaine, labor.....60.00

American Auto. Co., gas and oils.....59.15

Wm. Favre, labor.....50.00

W. T. Holden, labor.....5.00

Andrew Lott, nails.....1.50

J. M. Haas, labor.....2.00

Ordered by the Board that the following amounts be allowed and paid out of the General County Fund, as per bills on file, examined and approved, to-wit:

J. W. Vairin, mdse.....$ 11.10

E. Van Whitfield, victualing prisoners.....45.50

E. Van Whitfield, conveying G. V. Young.....8.00

Dr. John A. Mead, services to Rob. Sands.....7.50

Di. C. L. Horton, professional services.....7.00

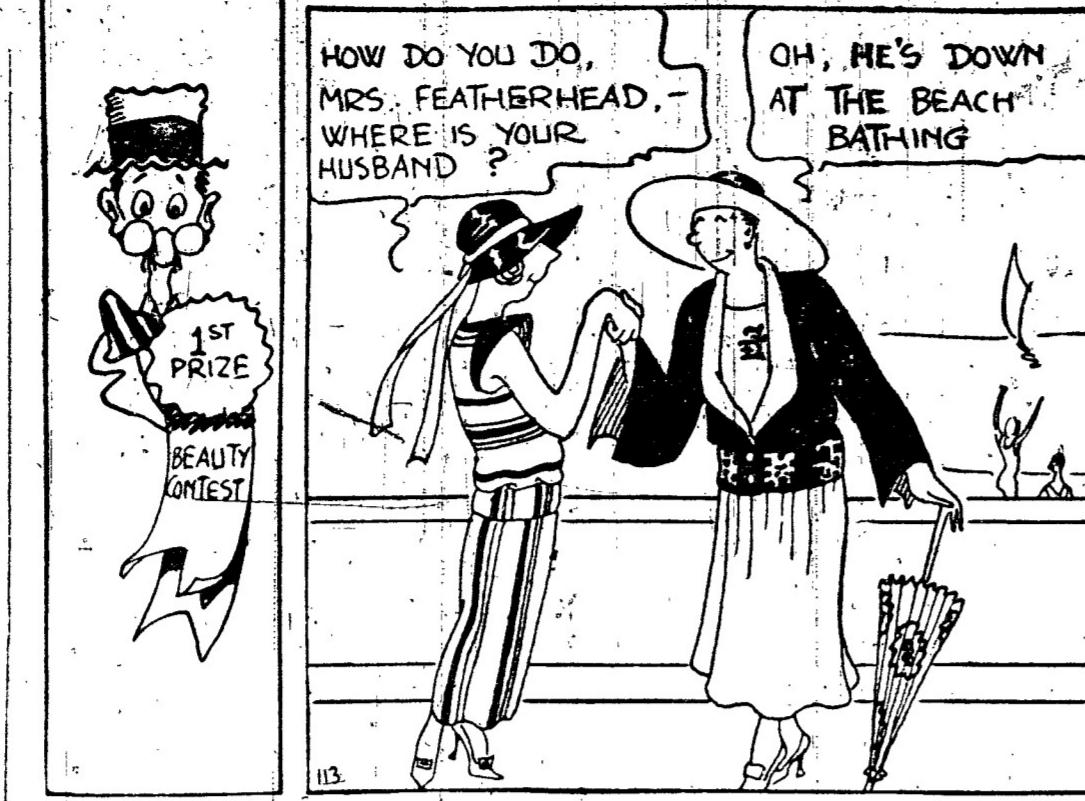

Jos. O. Mauffray, mdse.....7.40

Bay Ice, Light & Bot. Wks., lights.....44.19

Bay Ice, Light & Bot. Wks., ice and coal.....14.00

O. M. Bourgeois, wood.....A. A. Kergosien, self and deputy, Circuit Court.....153.60

AW, WHAT'S THE USE

By L. F. Van Zelm
© Western Newspaper Union

Fanny Never Worried

ment commander. Twenty-five dollars will endow one grave. It is thought that a number of parents will wish to endow the graves of their boys.

Jackson, Miss.—Department headquarters of the American Legion has received bulletin from Garland W. Powell, national director of the Legion Americanism Commission, in which it is declared that of the "middlemen" who are representative of the leaders of drug rings and who dispense drugs to peddlers, 95 per cent are foreign born or of foreign extraction.

"They come from countries where the government is a thing to be shunned, not shamed, and they have no sense of responsibility to society," the bulletin says. "The American Legion, through its national Americanism Commission, desires to lend every bit of assistance possible in combating this evil which threatens to undermine the very foundations of our Republic."

"We believe that this is another argument in favor of our immigration policy," the bulletin continues. "If the '95 per cent aliens were arrested or sent back to their native lands, and the total exclusion of immigrants for a fixed period of years determined upon by congress, it would be a difficult matter for the peddlers to obtain drugs; thus one of the greatest blows to the drug traffic could result therefrom."

All State Americanism officials of the Legion are called upon to lend their full support to the policies of the national commission.

PROMINENT MEN TO SPEAK AT SCHOOL.

An interesting program has been arranged for the annual session of the Seashore Divinity School to be held at Biloxi, June 12, for ten days. Rev. H. M. Ellis, president of the board of directors, has announced that three presiding bishops will probably be secured to deliver a series of lectures. These will include Bishop Warren A. Candler, of the Louisiana conference; Bishop Ainsworth, of the Methodist conference, and in all probability Bishop Murrah, of the Louisiana conference.

MAY AID HOSPITAL.

Jackson, Miss.—Mississippi has been allotted $1,300 in the amount to be raised by the American Legion in its campaign for funds to be used for the issuance of funds to build a tubercular cottage at the State Sanitarium at McGee, Miss., in which to care for patients from this section.

There is little danger of overfeeding the sow, when pigs are three weeks old, or especially when she receives all the water she will drink and gets sufficient exercise.

Over-feeding soon after farrowing causes the sow to become irritable, restless, and as a result she usually steps or lies on some of her pigs.

Heavy feeding tends to over-stimulate the milk flow and in many cases causes cold and feverish condition of the udder. Her condition of which causes the young pigs to commence souring when only a day or so old. A sudden change in the ration of the sow might have the same effect on the pigs.

Instructions Disregarded.

Regardless of the fact that Judge D. M. Graham issued pre-emptory injunction to find four defendants guilty in the case of W. G. King vs. the G. & S. Railroad and W. P. James, a suit for $40,000, which resulted from the death of a child, brought in a verdict for $2,500 against W. P. James. Another important suit for trial Wednesday was that of Charles Berling vs. the G. & S. I. Railroad, in which he asked for $7,500 damages.

G. & S. I. Sale Denied.

In answer to a question regarding the sale of the Gulf and Ship Island Railroad, which has been rumored over the Mississippi Coast for the past number of days, W. T. Stewart, vice-president of the road, has emphatically denied the fact that the road has been sold.

A Convenient Way to Make Bordeaux Mixture.

1. A. At least a day or two before the mixture is needed suspend 30 pounds of copper sulphate in a burlap sack so that it will be just below the surface of 30 gallons of water in a wooden barrel. It will all dissolve in 12 to 24 hours. (The solution destroys metal. It is best to use a barrel with wooden hoops.)

2. Stake 40 pounds of good hard stone lime, stirring and adding water in small quantities, as it stakes to keep it from drying out and forming lumps. When fully soaked, add water to make a total of 40 gallons.

3. Start agitator or stir vigorously and pour in 4 gallons of the lime solution and pour in 3 gallons for each 50 gallons that the spray tank holds.

4. When ready to spray, fill the spray tank about two-thirds full of water. Stir the copper sulphate solution and pour in 3 gallons for each 50 gallons that the spray tank holds.

5. Start agitator or stir vigorously and pour in 4 gallons of the lime solution and pour in 3 gallons for each 50 gallons that the spray tank holds.

6. Start agitator or stir vigorously and pour in 4 gallons of the lime solution and pour in 3 gallons for each 50 gallons that the spray tank holds.

7. Start agitator or stir vigorously and pour in 4 gallons of the lime solution and pour in 3 gallons for each 50 gallons that the spray tank holds.

8. Start agitator or stir vigorously and pour in 4 gallons of the lime solution and pour in 3 gallons for each 50 gallons that the spray tank holds.

9. Start agitator or stir vigorously and pour in 4 gallons of the lime solution and pour in 3 gallons for each 50 gallons that the spray tank holds.

10. Start agitator or stir vigorously and pour in 4 gallons of the lime solution and pour in 3 gallons for each 50 gallons that the spray tank holds.

11. Start agitator or stir vigorously and pour in 4 gallons of the lime solution and pour in 3 gallons for each 50 gallons that the spray tank holds.

12. Start agitator or stir vigorously and pour in 4 gallons of the lime solution and pour in 3 gallons for each 50 gallons that the spray tank holds.

13. Start agitator or stir vigorously and pour in 4 gallons of the lime solution and pour in 3 gallons for each 50 gallons that the spray tank holds.

14. Start agitator or stir vigorously and pour in 4 gallons of the lime solution and pour in 3 gallons for each 50 gallons that the spray tank holds.

15. Start agitator or stir vigorously and pour in 4 gallons of the lime solution and pour in 3 gallons for each 50 gallons that the spray tank holds.

16. Start agitator or stir vigorously and pour in 4 gallons of the lime solution and pour in 3 gallons for each 50 gallons that the spray tank holds.

17. Start agitator or stir vigorously and pour in 4 gallons of the lime solution and pour in 3 gallons for each 50 gallons that the spray tank holds.

18. Start agitator or stir vigorously and pour in 4 gallons of the lime solution and pour in 3 gallons for each 50 gallons that the spray tank holds.

19. Start agitator or stir vigorously and pour in 4 gallons of the lime solution and pour in 3 gallons for each 50 gallons that the spray tank holds.

20. Start agitator or stir vigorously and pour in 4 gallons of the lime solution and pour in 3 gallons for each 50 gallons that the spray tank holds.

21. Start agitator or stir vigorously and pour in 4 gallons of the lime solution and pour in 3 gallons for each 50 gallons that the spray tank holds.

22. Start agitator or stir vigorously and pour in 4 gallons of the lime solution and pour in 3 gallons for each 50 gallons that the spray tank holds.

23. Start agitator or stir vigorously and pour in 4 gallons of the lime solution and pour in 3 gallons for each 50 gallons that the spray tank holds.

24. Start agitator or stir vigorously and pour in 4 gallons of the lime solution and pour in 3 gallons for each 50 gallons that the spray tank holds.

25. Start agitator or stir vigorously and pour in 4 gallons of the lime solution and pour in 3 gallons for each 50 gallons that the spray tank holds.

26. Start agitator or stir vigorously and pour in 4 gallons of the lime solution and pour in 3 gallons for each 50 gallons that the spray tank holds.

27. Start agitator or stir vigorously and pour in 4 gallons of the lime solution and pour in 3 gallons for each 50 gallons that the spray tank holds.

28. Start agitator or stir vigorously and pour in 4 gallons of the lime solution and pour in 3 gallons for each 50 gallons that the spray tank holds.

29. Start agit

THE SEA COAST ECHO.

CITY ECHOES.

A consignment of envelopes received by the Echo's printing department Thursday amounted to 100,000. Buying in such large quantities insures advantageous prices in printing for our customers. Our slogan, "Better quality for less money."

Miss Ethel Osoinach returned to New Orleans Monday, after spending the Easter holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Osoinach, and was generally welcomed by the members of the younger set in social circles.

Mrs. Victor Cahors was the guest of Mrs. George R. Rea Thursday, coming out from New Orleans in anticipation of the early arrival of the family at the recently purchased Harris home, for summeruse, a Cedar Point, mention of which was made in these columns last week.

Mrs. E. G. Abrahams and Mrs. L. M. Power and little Miss Eddie Graham Power left Sunday for Los Angeles, California, called by a message announcing the critical illness of Mrs. Abraham's son, who underwent a surgical operation on their arrival. The message was totally unexpected and the party left with much apprehension.

Success crowned the ladies of Woodmen Circle on the occasion of the barn dance given Sunday night at W.O.W. Hall. The affair was not only largely attended but proved a social affair of importance and genuine enjoyment. After defraying all expenses the sum of $78.00 was realized. The ladies have authorized The Echo to announce that another affair will be given by them in the immediate future for a different but just as good a cause.

Physical improvements to the property of the Peacock Tea Room, by Mrs. A. Bourgeois, proprietress indicate the success and attendant popularity of the tea room both as a social and business proposition. Mrs. Bourgeois was a visitor to New Orleans Thursday in the interest of the Tea Room. The anticipated patronage of the place for the summer will be only limited by the capacity to cater and serve. Mrs. Bourgeois' efforts are meeting with deserved commendation and material success.

A delightful party was given at the home of Miss Marcelline Teliard, in State street, Easter Sunday night. Among those present were: Misses Emma, Mildred and Louis Fayard, Marius Ziegler, Rita, Leonide and Juliet Perre, Valmata and Erin Sauvier, Messrs. Lawrence Hart, Ernest Erwin, Russel Ladner, Alden Ludger and Funston Mauffray, Laurant Ferguson, Bert Sigerson, Eugene Smith, Leo Favre and Rufus Whitfield.

W. J. Cass, representing the Intertype Corporation, manufacturers of intertype typesetting machine, was a business visitor to Bay St. Louis Thursday. Visiting The Echo printing plant, he expressed his amazement at finding so "up-to-date and splendidly equipped" plant in a city the size of Bay St. Louis as "The Echo shop," as he expressed it. He said if all plants were as well equipped as The Echo he would make no sales. The enterprise and its success reflects credit on Bay St. Louis and Hancock county, whose patronage has made it possible.

Members of the Chi Omega Society of Newcomb College, New Orleans, entertained at a house party over Easter at Mrs. G. E. Mader's beautiful and popular "Kenwood Home" with Mrs. Nancy Snyder as chaperone. The participants were: Misses Mildred Pool, Ann Stevens, Katharine Hooper, Elizabeth Washington, Alleen Smith, Lucile Reed, Alice LeVaudou, Madeline Livodeis, Phyllis Reeves, Eleanor Sheely, Nellie Blaworth, Mary Louis Dodds, Isabelle Kessler, Amoret Gates, Marion Gwin, Marshall Noton, Marion Dow, Mathilde Rose, Elizabeth Hughes and Bessie Cartledge.

Arrived with light for the Easter holidays and animated with the spirit of a bevy of college girls the Bowdoin place, now owned by H. N. Pettigrew of New Orleans, is again shrouded in darkness. The young ladies representing Gamma Beta Sorority of Newcomb College, New Orleans, returned to the college Monday night, after a most enjoyable season holiday spent in Bay St. Louis. The party was composed of Misses Margaret Brown, Laura McDonald, Verusa Vidou, Viola Vidou, Edna Risenman, Caroline Meyer, Adelaide Zoeller, Julia Zoeller, Lillian Polk, Muriel Fisher, chaperoned by Mrs. F. A. Frere, Mrs. S. P. Dean.

A committee of Bay St. Louis citizens and business men, composed of John Osoinach, Jos. O. Mauffray, George Rea, Manager Babcock of the Bay Hotel and Chas. G. Moreau, by invitation inspected the Grinnell sprinkling system installed at the new Seminary building, the first of its kind set in Bay St. Louis, and the viewing of which proved of interest and profit. The advantages of the system are found in the protection afforded and the cheaper rate of fire insurance. This system is only possible when the new waterworks tower will be finished and in use, thus giving the required pressure.

The committee on improvements for the building and interior of the Merchants' Bank and Trust Company report "Busy" all the time, and the public can expect to see results in the near future. A few weeks ago it was announced in The Echo and Bay St. Louis press dispatches in the Times-Picayune to the effect the Merchants' Bank had decided to enlarge its building and to renovate the interior. The latest from the bank is the purchase of a set of magnificent marble and bronze fixtures, the equal of any found in larger city banks. The comment is found in the exclamation, "See how we grow!" Keep your eye on Bay St. Louis and the Sea Coast.

FINE TOMATOES,
SWEET PEPPER,
HOT PEPPER

AND EGG PLANTS

FOR SALE.

RING 58. CALL AT

BOUDIN'S STORE.

LEAVE ORDERS.

PEDRO BOUDIN,

Contractor and Builder.

House Moving and Wharf Building

Specialists.

Estimates Carefully Furnished.

Telephone 58. Bay St. Louis, Miss.

BRIDE-TO-BE HONORED BY LOCAL FRIENDS.

Miss Mary McDonald, to wed Dr. Kittrell on Tuesday next, honoree of Number of Social Entertainment During Week.

One of the larger and more select parties of the season was the entertainment at the Bay-Waveland Clubhouse on Tuesday afternoon, when Mrs. C. C. McDonald entertained tea and Miss Ethel Gex at bridge in compliment to Miss Mary McDonald, of Bay St. Louis, who, on Tuesday of next week, will become the bride of Dr. John M. Kittrell, formerly of Gulfport, but now located at Crystal Springs, Miss., and one of the prominent and successful physicians of the state.

The guests delighted in bridge from 2 to 4 o'clock, at the conclusion of which Mrs. Donald Marshall was awarded first prize and Mrs. Robert L. Genin second. Mrs. Bouslog received the consolation prize.

Among those present were: Mrs. Leon Crawford, Mrs. E. J. Leonard, Mrs. Julia Bird, Mrs. C. L. Howard, Mrs. P. Jenkins, Mrs. Bouslog, Mrs. Donald Marshall, Mrs. Carl McDonald, Mrs. R. G. Chas. G. Moreau, Mrs. George R. Rea, Mrs. C. L. Walcott, Mrs. E. W. Drackett, Mrs. Walter L. Gex, Mrs. W. A. McDonald, Mrs. George W. Seal, Mrs. West, Mrs. E. J. Arceneaux, Mrs. C. A. Fournier, Mrs. Richard Brison, Mrs. Valentine Dell, Mrs. Sidney Prague, Mrs. Richard W. Sistrom, Mrs. R. G. Montluzin, Mrs. J. Harrison, Mrs. A. P. Smith, Mrs. Emilie Lacoste, Mrs. J. A. Evans, Mrs. A. F. Deltier, Mrs. George C. Firsching, Mrs. Winfield Partridge, Misses Louise Crawford, Lucille Osoinach, Evelyn Lacoste, Alice Chapman, Vicki Gex, Rita Beath, Emma Edwards, Lillith Ansley.

A two-course luncheon was served. From 4 to 5 Mrs. McDonald entertained at tea, during which time Mrs. Partridge and Mrs. Terlindau, accomplished musicians, rendered numbers on the piano, and Miss Evelyn Lacoste two vocal numbers in her usual style, which elicited much praise by knowing ones.

Among those who dropped in for tea and music were Mesdames Alexander Allison, E. S. Drake, Galway, W. A. McDonald, Fred Wright, A. L. Stokoe, C. I. Joyner, C. A. Worsley.

Little Miss Lionel Arceneaux represented Cupid and was very effective in the role.

This affair was one of brilliant social assemblage, and many new and handsome afternoon gowns were noted.

The bride-elect wore a trousseau gown of toast colored flat crepe, trimmed in paisley, and a cape to match. Her picture hat was of bronze metal cloth.

Mrs. Donald Marshall entertained on Wednesday with a luncheon in honor of Miss Mary McDonald. Wisteria was featured in the decorations, but at the table the bride's place was marked with white roses. An elaborate five-course menu was served. The honored was becong attired in a brocade panne velvet.

One of a number of charming affairs given for Miss Mary McDonald, a bride-elect of the month, was the bridge party Thursday afternoon with Mrs. James A. Evans hostess.

The spacious hall and dining room were filled with pink roses, sweet peas and ferns. The tables of the young set enjoyed the bridge game, and Miss Ethel Gex won first prize, a dainty cut glass stemware. The honored guest was presented with a beaufiful pair of silk hose.

Several extra guests were asked in for the latter part of the afternoon, when delicious refreshments in two courses were served. The hostess wore a gown of brown silk lace and the honoree appeared in an effective colette of white canton crepe combined with periwinkle taffeta. Her bat, in the periwinkle shade, was patterned on the Egyptian mode.

Mrs. E. Steele Drake is complimenting Miss Mary McDonald this afternoon (Saturday) with a heart party. The beautiful home is graced with Southern smilex and spring blossoms. A quantity of red hearts are featured in the decorations. After a game of progressive hearts a delicious two-course meal will be served at the tables. The favors are tiny red baskets of salted nuts and red candy hearts. Miss McDonald wears a charming trousseau gown of jade green crepe, Louis with a hat of jade and lavender.

SHAW & WOLEBEN

ENGINEERS, ARCHITECTS

GULFPORT, MISS.

PLANS, SPECIFICATIONS, SURVEYS,

ESTIMATES

REPORTS AND SUPERVISION

FOR

ENGINEERING AND ARCHITECTURAL

WORKS AND STRUCTURES.

NOTICE.

Edward Hines Yellow Pine Trustees

for the year 1923, filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission, at Washington, D. C., its application for a certificate that its future public convenience and necessity require or will require the construction and extension of its line of railroads from the town of Hancock, in the southern direction through the County of Hancock to the City of Bay St. Louis, in the southerly part of the County of Hancock, and also to the town of St. Louis, Mississippi, a total distance of nine miles.

EDWARD HINES YELLOW PINE TRUSTEES.

NOTICE TO BIDDERS.

Sealed bids will be received by the Board of Supervisors of Hancock County, at the office of the Clerk of said Board, Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, until 12 o'clock A. M. on Saturday, April 7, 1923, for furnishing and driving piling at head of ferry wharf, and for plans and specifications of the same.

Bidders to furnish road in double the amount of his bid to be appraised in the amount of his bid plus 50% and a non-refundable check to accompany bid, as evidence of good faith.

The bidder will receive the right to reject all bids.

This the 3rd day of April, A. D. 1923.

(Seal). A. A. KERGOSIEN, Clerk.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS.

FOR SALE AT A BARGAIN.

One good horse and one excellent cow.

J. N. WISNER.

NOTICE TO BOND HOLDERS.

Notice is hereby given by the Board of Supervisors of Hancock County, Mississippi, that on the 1st day of May, 1923, the Bonds numbered 195, 196, 197, 198, 199, 200, inclusive, will be paid with interest to date on May 1st, 1923, and the Bonds numbered 195, 196, 197, 198, 199, 200, inclusive, will be paid with interest to date on the 1st day of May, 1924, and the Bonds numbered 195, 196, 197, 198, 199, 200, inclusive, will be paid with interest to date on the 1st day of May, 1925.

This the 3rd day of April, A. D. 1923.

(Seal). A. A. KERGOSIEN, Clerk.

ANNUAL JUNIOR TRACK AND FIELD MEET

* * * * *

WORK AND PLAY AT S. J. A.

* * * * *

ANNUAL JUNIOR TRACK AND FIELD MEET

* * * * *

ANNUAL JUNIOR TRACK AND FIELD MEET

* * * * *

ANNUAL JUNIOR TRACK AND FIELD MEET

* * * * *

ANNUAL JUNIOR TRACK AND FIELD MEET

* * * * *

ANNUAL JUNIOR TRACK AND FIELD MEET

* * * * *

ANNUAL JUNIOR TRACK AND FIELD MEET

* * * * *

ANNUAL JUNIOR TRACK AND FIELD MEET

* * * * *

ANNUAL JUNIOR TRACK AND FIELD MEET

* * * * *

ANNUAL JUNIOR TRACK AND FIELD MEET

* * * * *

ANNUAL JUNIOR TRACK AND FIELD MEET

* * * * *

ANNUAL JUNIOR TRACK AND FIELD MEET

* * * * *

ANNUAL JUNIOR TRACK AND FIELD MEET

* * * * *

ANNUAL JUNIOR TRACK AND FIELD MEET

* * * * *

ANNUAL JUNIOR TRACK AND FIELD MEET

* * * * *

ANNUAL JUNIOR TRACK AND FIELD MEET

* * * * *

ANNUAL JUNIOR TRACK AND FIELD MEET

* * * * *

ANNUAL JUNIOR TRACK AND FIELD MEET

* * * * *

ANNUAL JUNIOR TRACK AND FIELD MEET

* * * * *

ANNUAL JUNIOR TRACK AND FIELD MEET

* * * * *

ANNUAL JUNIOR TRACK AND FIELD MEET

* * * * *

ANNUAL JUNIOR TRACK AND FIELD MEET

* * * * *

ANNUAL JUNIOR TRACK AND FIELD MEET

* * * * *

ANNUAL JUNIOR TRACK AND FIELD MEET

* * * * *

ANNUAL JUNIOR TRACK AND FIELD MEET

* * * * *

ANNUAL JUNIOR TRACK AND FIELD MEET

* * * * *

ANNUAL JUNIOR TRACK AND FIELD MEET

* * * * *

ANNUAL JUNIOR TRACK AND FIELD MEET

* * * * *